

Books and Values

August through December 2018

We heard you.

You asked us for core Jewish principles and values on which to build a cooperative school community, where children are inspired to explore and play with the foundations of social and emotional learning within a richly Jewish environment.

Here are the fall semester books for all participating classrooms.

Book	Value
All the World By Liz Garton Scanlon Illustrated by Marla Frazee Beach Lane Books	Gratitude Hakarat hatov
Are We Still Friends? By Ruth Horowitz Illustrated by Blanca Gómez Scholastic Press	Friendship Chaveirut
Who's Got the Etrog? By Jane Kohuth Illustrated by Elissambura Kar-Ben Publishing	Good manners Derech erez
Something from Nothing Adapted from a Jewish Folktale By Phoebe Gilman Scholastic Press	Do not waste Bal tashchit

Inspire your colleagues across North America!

Many of you have either read these books or have explored these values with your students. Let us know what your ideas are, so your creativity can benefit children and families everywhere.
